Top Performing Maryland HUBZone Business—U.S. Department of Treasury’s Office of Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization Recognizes Delmock Technologies, Inc.

Delmock Technologies, Inc. (DTI) opened up an email on June 18, 2019 excited to receive special recognition from Donna M. Ragucci the Director Department of the Treasury’s Office of Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization. This prestigious honor for major efforts at Treasury which include cybersecurity, software engineering, integration for middleware infrastructure and various enterprise business applications along with client- servers, web-based and virtual cloud computing architectures providing a forward-looking approach which transformed, modernized, and continuously improved service delivery and stakeholders’ satisfaction. The Director cited how “DTI is on the front line of eliminating financial and educational disparities; hiring dozens of people from both Historically Black Colleges & Universities (HBCU), Veterans and HUBZone residents”.

Ms. Ragucci even highlighted DTI’s ability to include HBCUs within “Tier 3” the highest Category Management level. When she stated, DTI is a Best-in-Class (BIC) CIO-SP3 HUBZone prime awardee with two HBCUs as subcontractors (Morgan State University and Bowie State University). The Category Management process compels Heads of Executive Departments and Agencies to make smarter use of common contract solutions and practices within a 0 to 3 Tier grading system—Tier 3 being the Best! It is with great surprise, gratitude, and pride that DTI accepts this honorable recognition from Treasury. As team players’, we are continuously building our brand by discovering cost-effective and budget friendly avenues to help our clients obtain the best technical solutions. Our model has always been to help revitalize and support our local and business community.
