DTI's Executive Vice President Receives Employee of the Year at 2018 National HUBZone Conference

The Executive Vice President (Lily Milliner) captures the HUBZone Contractors National Council value and spirit by championing community growth, access, transformation, and empowerment. Ms. Milliner's love for people, community engagement, and never-quitting spirit is what sets her apart. Guided by her strong faith, she always goes above and beyond to lend a helping hand to anyone in need and sees them through their challenges.

On October 12, 2018 with over 300 guests (federal and private sectors) it was no surprise to her colleagues she was awarded the 2018 Employee of the Year. Ms. Milliner gave a stirring call for community youth engagement within the HUBZone localities pointing to one of her mentees on the podium. Mr. Edward Emerson majoring in Technology will graduate in the Spring of 2019 from Baltimore County Community College. She discussed her sense of satisfaction knowing that she's able to positively impact the next generation of leaders like Ed; potential cyber experts, entrepreneurs, doctors, lawyers, scientists, teachers, developers, engineers to name a few.

In the community she is a pillar of hope and inspiration. She continuously seeks ways to create new job opportunities for HUBZone individuals, within her company and others where their skillsets will thrive. She has a knack for connecting people, businesses and establishing new partnerships in the most beneficial and advantageous ways. In January of 2018, Ms. Milliner became one of the founding members of the NIH HUBZone Consortium, and was immediately impactful to NIH's ability to establish a framework for the organization to meet its HUBZone goals; affording companies new alliances. She joined forces with Metropolitan Community Development Corporations as an instructor in 2015, to host a 13-week STEM program for low income youth and helped fund their educational trips. She also helps her local churches by funding Youth Conferences and back-to-school drives. Furthermore, She interims as a guest speaker or judge panelist for STEM initiatives in local schools. Ms. Milliner is truly honored and humbled to be recognized by her peers with this award and vows to continue on her journey of doing great, meaningful work.
