Delmock Technologies, Inc. (DTI), is delighted to announce the opening of a Western Maryland branch on the campus of Frostburg State University; a HUBZone designated district. With the opening of this office, Delmock has demonstrated its commitment to assist Allegany County in its quest to refuel the Western Maryland region’s economic engine, and to facilitate re-engagement of the community at-large. DTI will play a critical role in how it educates and trains a pipeline of workers with digital and technology skills necessary to support the Advanced Technology Center (ATC) in Frostburg MD.

DTI is working with industry stakeholders to develop dynamic cyber security training and certification-readiness program that will grow the workforce base of cyber security-certified candidates entering the IT occupations in key industry sectors. Additional technology initiatives will include a National Quantum Literacy Convergence Accelerator program funded by the National Science Foundation (NSF). This award is the first ever grant which will be responsible for ushering in the newest taxonomy standards for the quantum information sciences. DTI has partnered with Frostburg State University to select two highly-qualified undergraduate researcher students to support our team. They will be beta-testing various conceptual designs developed by the network team.

Our Private-Public partnership will support the IT/cybersecurity, advanced manufacturing, and transportation sectors to upskill its present workforce and train a new generation of workers to build a pipeline for Western Maryland’s future workforce. DTI is well on its way to generating over a dozen well-paying new IT positions.
